Lupus is a chronic inflammatory disease that can affect various parts of the body, especially the skin, joints, blood, kidneys, lungs, heart, nervous system, and/or other body organs or systems.

Lupus affects 1 out of every 185 Americans and can be difficult to diagnose, as symptoms come and go and mimic many other illnesses. Although Lupus ranges from mild to life threatening, thousands of Americans die with Lupus each year.

Juvenile Arthritis is the leading cause of arthritis in children affecting over 200,000 in the United States. Saint Louis University is home to the 9th largest pediatric rheumatology clinic in the country, serving over 1,000 children in the region.
